

Dear Trader,

In this newsletter, you can read more about:

- Downloading your producer overview
- An update on the API test environment
- A new tool from AIB for insight into European transactions

Feature article

This month, you can read more about the question: How do you obtain guarantees of origin for your account?

You can find the article here on our website.

Download your producer overview yourself

Did you know that you can now download an overview of the producers you have selected as a trader via the trading portal?

You no longer need to submit a request to our service desk for this.

The overview only includes producers who have given their consent to share their details with you.

This means you have this information immediately available whenever you need it.

Update on the API test environment

The API test environment is being put to good use. We are receiving many valuable questions and feedback from users. We are currently processing this input and using it to further improve the environment.

We are not yet able to say when the API will become available in the live environment. Naturally, we are working to make it available as soon as possible. We will inform you as soon as we have further details.

New AIB tool: insight into European transactions

The Association of Issuing Bodies (AIB) has developed a new tool that provides insight into European transaction flows for guarantees of origin.

This tool allows you to see how transactions between different countries take place.

You can find the tool here: Hub Transfer Flows | AIB
